Bill Cooper 0115 8787060

9 May How a Symphony works

Bill Cooper explains the basics by reference to Prokofiev's short but perfectly formed "Classical" Symphony and also plays examples from a wide range of other Symphonies.

23 May An Orchestral Concert

Chosen and presented by John Stuckey.

6 June A Musical Alphabet: S

A single letter suffices for this instalment in Bill Cooper's continuing series. Composers' names from Schubert to Shostakovich and a multitude of musical terms and expressions begin with this letter.

20 June Musical connections – family and friends

Revealed by Peter Stafford.

4 July Classical/Neoclassical

Music by classical composers (Bach, Mozart, Haydn etc.) side by side with "neoclassical" pieces composed in the 20th century. Presented by Alan Spooner.

18 July Proms Preview

All the concerts in the 2018 Promenade Concert season will be broadcast live on Radio 3 and several of them will be televised. Bill Cooper draws attention to some that catch his eye and plays music from them.

1 August A Miscellany inspired by Birds

Devised and introduced by Judy Stocker.

15 August Another musical friendship: William Walton and Paul Hindemith

Plenty of good tunes – some by Bach and Weber! (How can that be?) Presented by Alan Spooner.

29 August Members' Choice

Please bring along a CD or CDs for us to enjoy, or just come and listen. Always an interesting session.
